FORT AND HOTEL

The present high price of feed in this city has occasioned a good deal of talk among those who are forced to buy, and the conditions which have brought about the unusually steep figures were obtained yesterday from Fred. W. Macfarlane of the Union

Feed Company. He said: eed Company. He said:
"The tremendous demand for high Inree grade barley for brewing purposes has had as much to do with the high price of feed as anything else. The fact that the demand for feed barley is greater than the supply has brought the price here up to $37.50, and whether it will go higher or not is hard to NOV. 22 say. It may drop. No one knows.

"In the Northwest there was an unwas expected to bring down the price but the crop turned out to be so good in quality, that over seventy-five per cent, has been shipped to the East for use in brewing. As a rule the higher qualities are used for this purpose and of high grade that there is little left Lunalilo and Pensacola Sts., the poorer for feed, but so much was for feed. "Another reason which has raised and are now reduced to the price here is that there has been an unprecedented demand from England for brewing barley, which has used up the surplus high grade stock. Three ships have recently left San Francisco and the Sound for Australia, with barley, which is, I believe, the first time that shipments of this kind have ever been made in large quantities. The barley which we have here has been bought on a rising market and is now being sold here for just about enough to cover expenses over the market price in San Fran-

From the Japanese point of view the drama enacted by the Asahi Dan Dramatic Company last night at the Orpheum was an unqualified success while to the few Americans who attended the affair was instructive. The play, a Japanese version of an American novel dramatized, evidenced the fact that the emotions of one race other, even so widely divergent as love, envy, rivalry and ambition, even if portrayed by actors and actor-actresses in kimonos and clogs, were the same as will be seen within a short time upon the same boards, portraye by the Ellefords.

There was a large number present during the performance and the ap-plause at times was hearty, a rather novel thing among Japanese audi-
